City News

LOCAL

—Hon. Senator Taitot was in the city yesterday afternoon.

—Lethbridge building permits for June amounted to nearly $40,000.

—J. Cookson, of Tofield, was in town yesterday. He reports crops in a very promising condition.

—In the report of the department examinations published yesterday the name Edith Weeks should have been Ethel Weeks.

—Three drunks were fined the usual five apiece in the police court this morning by Magistrate Cowan.

—Lacrosse practice will be held on the Second street grounds on Monday evening. Full turnout is expected.

—The Winnipeg Free Press has a fine half tone cut of Hon. W. T. Finlay, Minister of Agriculture, who is in Winnipeg this week attending the big fair.

—The scholars and teachers of McDougall Methodist Sabbath school picnicked on the flats at the Groat estate yesterday afternoon and spent a very enjoyable day.

—Mrs. Dilworth, of Toronto, who sang at the recital here, given by Dr. Torrington, will sing the solo, "Come Unto Me," from "Messiah," in McDougall Methodist church, at the evening service tomorrow.

—The funeral of the late Edwin Lyons will leave his late residence, Jasper avenue on Sunday at 2 p.m. The Old Timer's Association requests a large attendance of its members.

—In another column will be found a notice calling for tenders for the construction of the new isolation hospital. Tenders are to be in by August 4th.

—Thos. Wittmann the furrier on Namayo avenue, accompanied by Mrs. Wittmann, leaves today for Banff and the coast on a holiday.

—The Young People's Society of the Baptist church will hold a lawn social at the home of Mrs. Umbach on Monday evening next.

—Mr. A. J. Pyke of the University of Toronto is in the city today. Mr. Pyke has just closed a pleasant holiday trip of two months in the west.

—No one is in a better position to judge how things are moving in Edmonton than Mr. A. H. Wardell. Since the first of March this year Mr. Wardell has moved sixty-seven buildings in this city and has been so busy that he has been forced to put on a night gang. Most of the buildings removed are frame structures, and are being replaced by more handsome and permanent buildings.

—Work on the new stone building of the Imperial bank at the corner of Jasper and McDougall is making good progress. Many passersby stop to watch the operations of the stone cutters, or the movements of the big stone derrick which hoists the blocks of stone into place. Some of the blocks which are being used in the construction of the building weigh two tons and over, and the derrick works to the limit in handling them. The entire front of the building will be of stone, and the new bank will be one of the handsomest buildings yet erected in Edmonton.

—The Farm and Ranch Review for July contains the statement that gambling continued throughout every day of the fair in Edmonton. This is hardly the fact. Gambling was rampant the first day, but as soon as Chief Evans and Sergeant Tibbitts were satisfied as to the nature of the games they soon gave them the run. An attempt to begin again the second day was promptly objected to by Directors Daly and McPherson who ordered the police to suppress the nuisance at once, which was done.

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMINATIONS

The results of our first annual departmental examinations were announced yesterday. It was gratifying to see the large number of candidates who have written and the large percentage who have passed. Between three and four hundred candidates wrote on the high school standards which shows that a good body of work is being done by our high schools, many of which have to work with a small staff and scant equipment.

The examination system necessarily features as it crowds the work of the year in a given subject into a couple of hours and sometimes the result of an examination does not fully indicate the fitness of a pupil. If papers are representative and the reading intelligently conducted no hardship arises and a right standard of work is set which is indispensable to a well regulated state system. We have every reason to believe that our provincial department will work along proper lines in giving a reasonable flexibility to the examination system.

The examination lists show a number who besides taking the teachers examination are taking additional necessary subjects to qualify for junior and senior matriculation. This is a good sign in our work. Though it is to be desired that our public and high schools should be first attended to it must be the case that higher education aims to create as well as answer a demand for advanced work. If the number of pupils taking matriculation work in the high school increases it will be justification for the early establishment of university interests.

ADVERTISING BY-LAWS

In deciding that the pending money by-laws should be published in the medium upon which the ratepayers depend for their information of civic affairs the city council on Tuesday evening displayed a commendable desire that the taxpayer should know what burdens they desire to place upon him and adopted the most sensible method of conveying this information to him. Charter or no charter the ratepayers of Edmonton depend upon the daily press of this city for their knowledge of municipal affairs and however else by-laws may be advertised if they are not published in the daily press the ratepayers are not given a fair chance to understand what obligations are being placed upon them.

To admit that the charter requirement may be fulfilled by advertisement in any publication which may choose to call itself a "newspaper" is an interpretation of the phraseology which opens the door for abuses of the spirit of the charter and for violation of public trust. The "advertisement" clause of the charter is the safeguard of the ratepayers against the borrowing and expenditure of public money for purposes or in amounts of which the ratepayers do not approve. Edmonton may not always have as reliable civic government as it has today and were it not for the "advertisement" clause an unscrupulous civic administration might by a practically "secret poll" authorize the borrowing and expenditure of public money as it chose. But to leave the interpretation of the "advertisement" clause to chance is to make it of practically no effect. In the development of the city transient publications without standing or circulation will doubtless appear from time to time ready enough to describe themselves as "newspapers" for the purpose of securing the advertisement of by-laws. Such advertisement might be a literal interpretation of the charter but could by no means of calculation be considered either a fulfillment of its spirit or an efficient means of reaching the ratepayers. But by means of such advertisement it would be nearly as possible to hold a "secret poll" as though the clause intended to prevent such were not included in the charter.

The city council may not be able to interpret the charter requirement into a form of words which would not be capable of misconstruction to the undue advantage or disadvantage of certain publications but they can interpret the spirit of the charter into a precedent a departure from which would awaken a storm of popular protest. By so doing they would bind their predecessors to utilize the most reasonable means of acquainting the ratepayers with the burdens which it may be proposed to place upon them. To accomplish this the council should see that future by-laws are sufficiently advertised.

Have You Ever Thought Edmonton Real Estate Has Always Been Good Buying?

But it never was as gilt edged as it is to-day, because it never was such a certainty. One good crop after another has eased all minds as to the stability and fertility of the soil and this is all that is required to make Edmonton the Chicago of Western Canada. Our city has passed the experimental stage, and the wise (?) men who looked on and predicted all kinds of evil things are soreheads now because they didn't buy.

The eyes of Manufacturers have seen the rapid and substantial growth of the city and the possibilities there are for their business not only in the city but in the vast expanse of splendid country within easy distance of it, with the large number of thriving towns springing up in every direction.

Edmonton is bound to grow by leaps and bounds during the next five years and there are many now living here who will say at the end of that time "Why didn't I buy some cheap property five years ago?" Are you going to be among the number, or are you going to sizzle the opportunity NOW and save yourself all those bitter regrets?

A FAMOUS CANADIAN SAILOR.

(R. S. Osborn in London Free Press.)

The Canadian Government steamer Arctic, formerly the German exploring steamer Gauss, is manned and provisioned at Halifax, and ready to start for the polar regions in a few days, under the command of Capt. Joseph Elzear Bernier, who commanded her on her last cruise, and who on his return from the present trip will take her 'around the Horn and fit her for a voyage to the North Pole via Bering Straits.

The captain was born in Quebec in 1852, was educated at the Christian Brothers' College in that city, and has led a stirring, adventurous life on the ocean ever since, having commanded over sixty ships and steamers in all parts of the world. He is an authority in the navigation of the coasts of Greenland, Labrador, Hudson Bay and the bleak and barren coasts of Newfoundland. He has never lost a vessel in his long career on the ocean, although he became a shipmaster when only seventeen years of age.

Captain Bernier comes from the famous La Salle family, the early explorers who penetrated into the heart of this northern continent and today is vice-president of the Arctic club of London, which heartily endorses his proposed plans of reaching the frigid goal that has been sought since the days of Capt. John Davis, an Englishman, who made the first recorded attempt in 1585, when he reached latitude 72 degrees 12 minutes north, a goal that thirty-four other daring explorers have attempted since and failed.

Captain Bernier comes from the Atlantic 175 times without mishap, and besides being a splendid seaman and navigator of high repute, he is a shipbuilder as well. For many years he has been a close student of Arctic research. Not a work on polar voyaging but he has read, and not an explorer who has been within the Arctic or Antarctic circles whose experience was of value but he has interviewed or been in correspondence with, and besides his practical experience in polar work, he is loaded "gunwale deep" with the very best of information obtainable respecting his proposed expedition. His theory and plans of reaching the north pole by the Bering Sea route have been endorsed by Lord Strathcona, who has spent many years in the Far North, and who is thoroughly conversant with Arctic conditions, as well as by the Colonial Institute, the Royal Society, and a majority of the House of Commons. At a recent dinner given in London to Anthony Fiala, of the Ziegler Arctic exploring expedition, his plan was given in detail, and met with a cordial endorsement by practical explorers like Amos Bessell, of the Kane expedition; Dr. Frederick A. Cook, of the Belgica expedition, and many other practical men.

Capt. Bernier holds that the ordinary exploring vessel, of modern times especially, has been lumbered with too many officers and too many men. Aft there has been an undefined authority, in short, too many men in charge of a scientist, he commanding officers. If the expedition usually was not a navigator or a seaman, and when an emergency was to be faced or a change of route to be determined upon, the divided authority manifested almost invariably caused trouble and disaster. Two commanding officers in one ship never did or never will sail smoothly together. There was always, he maintained, a conflict of opinion, bad blood was engendered because of this divergence of views and action, and when once discontent and cross purposes manifest themselves in the after end of the vessel, then the harmony of action and purpose of the work are impaired and finally destroyed. Therefore for a successful prosecution of a polar expedition that many cover years of time, the less the number of men composing the personnel the less the chances for discontent and lack of harmony.

Capt. Bernier reasons that one thoroughly competent man must be in sole command—a man of firm purpose, a disciplinarian of the highest order, who can make himself a genial companion, and who also can inspire in his subordinates unflinching confidence, and who is physically and mentally strong, just, impartial, a perfect sailor, full of resources, a first-class navigator, and ice pilot par excellence. He must be clear-headed, cool, and capable of combating to the limit of human power and endurance any emergency that may arise. Such a man will succeed, but he is to be seconded by at least two mates, in every way as competent, who in case of death or injury to the master will be able to carry out his plans or to bring the ship and crew back in safety to the starting point. The scientific corps for such an expedition should be small, but perfect in its profession and attainments.

In a recent letter to the writer, Capt. Bernier says: "I have been a careful student of the western ice movement as reported by competent observers, especially among the whalers, and now that the Melville-Bryant buoys have drifted out, as I predicted they would two years ago, we must be convinced that there must be a certain passage between Captain Keegan Island, off Point Barrow, and an unknown island in 75 degrees north latitude and 178 degrees west longitude, as reported in 1864.

"The Jeanette's crew saw birds going in that direction in the spring of 1860, and clouds over it bearing north-east about seventy miles distant. It is my intention to put the ship in the ice from 164 to 169 degrees west longitude, and as far north as possible, working in with the lead, going on a north-west course, and the ship will get into deep water and in this way is sure to drift in closer proximity to the pole than has yet been done, reaching between 84 and 85 degrees on the other side of the passage. We will then leave the ship, taking to our automobile boats in the summer season, and make for the trip to the pole. Having a specially devised system of wireless telegraphy with box-kite stations, we shall be provisioned and outfitted for six years, so that there will be no anxiety in regard to food.

"During our drifting the ship will be a floating observation in all the branches of science. Ocean geography will be a specialty, magnetic disturbances, variation of the compass, dipping of the needle, etc. The camera will play an important part in our records. On all degrees of longitude we pass over soundings will be made, and the specimens taken from the bottom of the ocean will be carefully preserved; in short, the most minute observations will be made of earth, sky, water, animal and bird life. With a good ship like the Arctic, a good crew carefully selected and properly cared for, with plenty of stores, books, music and a glorious object in view, we shall expect to have a good time."

While drifting toward the pole surveying parties will be sent out on both sides of the ship, extending their operations at least fifty miles on either side, and being in wireless communication with the ship at stated intervals during the day. The De Forest wireless telegraph system will be used. The automobile boats are on the general plan suggested by Samuel R. Clarke, of Bozeman, Montana, and in fact it is this style that Dr. Cook expects to use in his proposed Antarctic expedition two years hence.

The Arctic has been fitted with a large and powerful air compressor driven by a windmill, so as to economize coal, the power thus accumulated and stored being used for the dynamos for lighting as well as heating purposes. In fact, many novel appliances have been supplied to the ship which will tend to make her the most perfectly equipped vessel ever sent into the Arctic regions, not only for the work she is to perform, but for the actual comfort of her officers and crew.

On this voyage Captain Bernier proposes to locate the several wireless telegraph stations which are to be used in his dash or rather drift to the north pole, which practical men really believe will be successful, barring unforeseen accidents.

The Arctic is no doubt the best modelled vessel and the strongest structurally that has ever gone out on such work, for her resisting powers have already been severely tested, and she was not found wanting in any respect. As a sea boat she has no equal, and she can work her way through heavy ice without apparent strain. The Arctic goes out on this voyage to convey a detachment of mounted police to relieve those who have been on Canada's "Furthest North" police station for the past two years.

CALGARY VS. THE C. P. R. Herald: A meeting of the three solicitors appointed by the city to present the argument with regard to crossing the railway Commission in September was held this morning with the mayor and a number of aldermen in attendance. The position of the city in the question was fixed so that the lawyers might persist in their advocacy of the case.

agreement and will ask the commission to grant those crossings which were held prior to the closing of Seventh and Ninth streets west in the spring. Subways will be required at First street east and First street west, and another still at the east end, near the Elbow river.

DROWNED IN THE BOW While crossing cattle at the ferry over the Bow River seven miles south east of Gleichen Matthew Clifford, aged 29 years, lost his life. Deceased was working for A. F. Joberg, who is moving his cattle from the Cardston district to the Red Deer, and when drowned was separated from the other members of the party. The cause of the accident was the lurching of his horse in swimming water, causing him to lose his seat, after which he swam for a considerable distance, but before help arrived he had sunk.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN NEWS. Fort Saskatchewan, July 25.—Mr. Corbett, principal of the public school has returned from examining papers in Edmonton.

Mr. Hignam of the Fort Saskatchewan Electric Light company, started the plant last night for the first time. Only a few lights were used, however. One large arc light on the corner of Ross street and Dennis avenue was all the light enjoyed by the public. The electric light station was the only other place here where electric lights were used.

Mr. Graham, of Edmonton, and son paid the Fort a short visit today. Painters are at work on the store belonging to Mr. L. Moret on Government street. Part of it will be turned into a residence and the rest into a millinery shop.

Mr. McMillan, late of the Dominion Hotel, Strathcona, came down to the Fort today and bought out the butcher business lately run by W. A. Duhaime.

Last night's loca train brought in Mr. Campbell from Lamont, where he has been engaged as carpenter on the elevator being erected by the firm of Brackman-Ker. Mr. Campbell says that the elevator will be ready to run in a couple of days, when Mr. Pince of this town will go down to Lamont to take charge of the plant. Mr. Pince has been engaged by Brackman-Ker for some time, and has been working for him at the Fort.

New hay is coming in fairly fast these days and it can be purchased for from $4.50 to $5 per load.

Lacrosse

Edmonton 1, Strathcona 1. That was the result of a rather interesting exhibition of the national game played on Strathcona grounds last evening between the old-time rivals. The Strathcona bunch were in about as bad shape as the Capitals for practice, which about evened things up, and the game though rather slow, was a treat to the crowd in comparison with the rag exhibition here a week or so ago. Shaw was in goal again, and won his spare last night. He put up the game of his life, and will now be a permanent in the flag. Edmonton played better lacrosse all the way round the line-up last night than they have done for some time. Their score was secured in the first quarter, but they couldn't get near enough for another, and in the third quarter Strathcona got away for their even-up. "Boo" Campbell carried the whistle. He penalized Chester Banford for touching the ball with his hands, and also Watkins for using bad language in front of the grand stand. Following was the line-up.

Baseball

Next week Edmonton will witness three exhibitions of the fastest baseball that ever was played on an Alberta diamond. The Anticorns, the college ball team from Seattle, Wash., a real American team that have got the science of the American game down to a finish, and that can pretty nearly stand up to anything in the baseball line that ever struck the last west, are coming over the border for their first visit to Alberta and will hit the Capital for three games. The games will be played on the Second street grounds on the evenings of Thursday, Aug. 2nd, Friday, Aug. 3, and Saturday, Aug. 4.

Now the fans of Edmonton needn't think that just because the Capital ball team have been stampered on Calgary ranches, have had it put over them by the Cubs of Wetaskiwin, and also by an unpretentious nine from Strathcona, that the team won't get a look in with the Yankee nine from Washington. The fact is the Edmonton boys have shown during their last trip to the cow camps in the south that they now have a bunch that can hold hands with any good baseball team. Not to mention several of the old reliables like Deaton, Dobson, and a few others, there are the chaps that have just enlisted under Edmonton colors. Hodge, the new catcher, is a real scientific man, and they say his playing is a treat to watch. Then Sullivan on third, has a permanent job with the team, having stood the test. Settlely is an all round man of the best stamp. The Capitals will put up good ball next week, and he is guaranteed the worth of his money who comes to the Second street grounds on the above dates.

Arrangements are also being made with the Wetaskiwin team for an exhibition here on Monday evening, and it is expected that the team will arrive tomorrow with the Capitals from the south, although nothing definite has been announced.

Football

The league games between Edmonton and Strathcona will commence next week, when the two teams will meet for the first game on Tuesday evening. There will likely be only two games between the teams, the first one probably being played on Strathcona grounds. The Edmonton team stands in a good way for the championship of the province, but will have to play some to pull out ahead of the southern teams. Lethbridge will likely be the one to come out ahead in the south, having already won in her own district by defeating Pioneer Creek.

The One Right Steel Plate Range

Until we found out just the right way to use asbestos to keep the heat in a cooking range where it must cook the food instead of cooking the cook, every steel-plate range kept the kitchen broiling-hot. This range is a cool range—the top shield and lining is thick asbestos, so the heat stays inside the range and keeps even evenly hot. Food is better cooked, quicker cooked and cooked for less fuel-cost.

MORE HORSES

Railway contractors are finding difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of teams to carry on the great amount of grading that is being done just now.

This condition is pretty certain to prevail for some time, for the disparity between the world's supply and consumption of horses has been greatly increased, and equilibrium will not be restored in a short time. This is especially true in the west. The seasonal migration to the plains of the west from the congested centres of Europe has disturbed economic conditions here. For years to come the main industry must be agriculture, necessitating a vast number of horses in the hands of a class who have hitherto been neutral factors so far as the horse market was concerned. Hitherto they were neither consumers nor producers of horses. Now they are important factors in the consumption of draft power, so that the demand for horses for the subjugation of our wild lands is likely to continue until we are well past this pioneer stage.

FROZEN MEAT TRADE DEVELOPING

(Furners' Advocate)

The Canadian Government commercial agent at Melbourne, reports the frozen meat trade in the antipodes as undergoing something of a revival. Several thousand carcasses of frozen mutton and lamb were recently sold by an Australian meat exporter for shipment to Vancouver and remote points east of the Rockies. The development of this trade has been 200-300 lbs. owing to the limited cold storage space available on the Canadian-Australian steamers. With continued good seasons, exporters of frozen meats are closely studying the possibilities of this western Canadian market, especially during the winter months.

After several years of comparative inactivity, many of the Australian preserved meat works have resumed extensive operations on account of improved climatic conditions. Hitherto, c. i. r., Vancouver quotations have been too high to attract business from this point, although some moderate shipments were made in 1905, and 1906. This year prices will be lower and thus an opportunity is made available of increasing the export business to British Columbia.

THE TRUE REMEDY FOR ERADICATION OF TUBERCULOSIS

(Farmers' Advocate)

Within the reach of every man, and at the lowest possible cost, there is a remedy for the disease which has been discovered for the eradication of tuberculosis. Of infinitely greater value than tuberculin and much more easy of administration, is a plentiful supply of fresh air. If there is one matter today in which veterinarians are behind the age it is that of failing to insist at all times, in season and out of season on the importance to live stock of thorough and effective stable ventilation. Having secured in the object lesson afforded by the medical profession and the marvellous results which its members are achieving by open air treatment, not only helping, but actually curing advanced stages of tuberculosis, to say nothing of checking the disease, as is now daily done, in its early stages, it is nothing short of disgraceful that we are yearly permitting thousands of valuable animals to become infected owing to the unsanitary conditions under which their owners insist on keeping them. Of the truth of this contention, which is perhaps, at first sight, rather sweeping, there is no lack of proof. In northern countries, where cattle are generally closely housed, and where a proper system of ventilation is the exception and not the rule, we almost invariably find bovine tuberculosis rampant. In milder climates where the animals have free access to fresh air, as for instance among the Hereford cattle in England, it is a rare thing to find a case of this disease. On the range tuberculosis is unknown except where it has been introduced by some pampered established individual, and even such a one is more likely to recover than to die, provided the malady is not too far advanced and the first winter can be endured. To put the case plainly, stockmen are breeding tuberculosis a great deal faster through neglect of this important subject of ventilation than it would ever be possible to stamp it out by the judicious use of tuberculin and the slaughter of diseased animals.

While holding these views I am keeping close watch on the work of Von Behring, McFadyen, Thompson, Macnab, and others in Europe, and Piersen, of Pennsylvania, who are devoting themselves to the task of finding some new and more effective way of dealing with the disease than has yet been made available. So far, in spite of all reports to the contrary, nothing has been achieved by their researches which would, in my opinion, warrant a change in our present attitude. Dr. J. C. Rutherford to the Committee on Agriculture.

ARGENTINE CATTLE

Cattle are on the increase among Argentine cattle, and the agricultural minister has found it necessary to call the attention of his subordinates to the imperative need of enforcing strictly the clauses of the animal sanitary law. The frequency with which the exportations of this raw have been ignored is common talk among those interested and it is feared that no improvement will be effected by merely issuing circular letters and decrees to minor officials. Something stronger is needed, says U. S. Consul Cole at Buenos Ayres.

BILL NYE'S COW

The Dairyman and Farmer can stop long enough to read the advertisement of Bill Nye's cow. It reads: "Owing to ill-health I will sell at my residence in township 12, range 18, according to the Government survey, one pure-bred Friesian cow, eight years old. She is a good milker and not afraid of the cars, or anything else. She has undaunted courage, and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is much attached to her home, at present by means of a long chain, but she will be sold to anyone who will use her right. She is one-fourth Shorthorn and three-fourths Friesian. I will also throw in a double barrel shotgun which goes with her. In May she generally goes away for a week or two and returns with a tail red with woolly legs. Her name is Rose."

THE H. B. ROUTE

Farmers' Advocate: We learn from Ottawa that the famous contractors, Macdonald, Mann, are now in negotiation with the government with regard to the construction of their proposed line to Hudson's Bay. The value of such a line to Western Canada can hardly be overestimated, and the time has arrived when this road should be specially pushed through. About twenty years ago a clause was inserted in a land grant of 12,500 acres per mile to assist the construction of a road to Hudson's Bay. The survey was afterwards given to the Winnipeg and Hudson's Bay Railway Company, which is now controlled by Macdonald & Mann. The line is 1,000 miles long, and would be about 100 miles in length and the land grant, therefore, would be some 1,000,000 acres in all. The area reserved for the selection of the grant lies alongside the route to be traversed by the new road.

Why everybody likes Abbey's Salt.

It is so pleasant to the taste that even children take it with pleasure. It does not "cake" or flake on top of the water. It effervesces slowly—may be drunk leisurely, without choking or blinding the user like sedlitz powders. The granules all dissolve—thus the full benefit of the salt is obtained with every dose. It is the ideal laxative and tonic to purify the blood—regulate stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels—and build up the system.

Business Outlook (Winnipeg Commercial)

Although incorrect flag incidents took place here on July 4, and although these provinces have given such a cordial reception to the railway plans of James J. Hill, it does not by any means signify that there is any disloyalty here towards either Eastern Canada or Great Britain. Recent articles in Eastern Canada and United States newspapers would seem to give the impression that the parts of Canada west of the Great Lakes were almost looking for an opportunity to break away from the Eastern provinces. There appears to be a scare that Mr. Hill's road will divert our traffic to Duluth, and that our East and West will be forever separated by a barren waste, through which no railroads will pass. Now, we can assure Eastern Canada, the Mother Country, and the United States, that there is no portion of the British dominions more loyal than Middle and Western Canada, and that there is no cause for alarm in the fact that James J. Hill is going to compete with the other railway lines in this country. Some of the pessimists that while over the matter would seem to be of the opinion that the Canadian Pacific, Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific railways will be put out of business by the Great Northern. Those acquainted with the outlook here know that we cannot have the four roads in operation any too soon, and that all of them will get as much business as they can handle. If the lines already in operation are not capable of holding their own with Hill's plans, let them wake up and get busy. If Fort William and Port Arthur will not prove as good will it be?

Never before was there so much enthusiasm over the celebration of Dominion Day in Middle and Western Canada as at the first of this month and no part of the federation appreciates our Canadian institutions more than we do. This "tommy rot" fear of disruption has the shadow of a foundation.

Retailers throughout the West and especially Manitoba and Saskatchewan anticipate a large volume of business during the next two weeks. The farmers are preparing to take off the wheat crop and will do the necessary shopping before they begin harvesting. Crop prospects continue the most optimistic and confidence inspires every branch of trade. This week has witnessed the attempt of speculators to hurry the market with damaging reports of black rust, the farmers' enemy. These reports have created a nervous atmosphere and fluctuations in prices. Last week the Van Dusen-Harrington company stated the prospect was decidedly good but there was a general fear of black rust. While the reports have the appearance of being honest and true they have been fully denied, and minimized as of merely isolated occurrence, and unlikely to spread. The spread depends very much upon the weather for the next few weeks—hot or cold, with much moisture being favorable to the growth of the rust plant.

The result, however, has been to arrest the decline in prices reported last week and prices are almost the same as a week ago. Another feature that has held prices steady is the comparatively small world's shipment last week. Shipments have been declining during the last few weeks until there is over 12 millions less in ocean transit than this time last year.

High authorities state had it not been for these two circumstances mentioned above this week would have witnessed a sharp break, for American winter wheat is moving on a liberal scale, and both in quality and quantity is a record crop.

Wet weather in Russia has seriously interfered with harvesting. Russia will have a smaller crop this year than any during the last three years, while at the same time her reserves are exhausted by the heavy exports of the same period. It is apparent Russian export will be cut down and other countries will be called upon to supply the deficiency and even if the American spring wheat crop yields as at present expected the general world's needs will prevent prices going much below the present level. The departmental examinations.

TOFIELD (Correspondence)

Tofield, July 26.—We make no apology for our appearance in the columns of Edmonton's leading paper, as we do not doubt that the residents of Edmonton and vicinity are interested in the welfare of the sister towns.

Tofield is a thriving little village already with two stores, two blacksmith shops, one butcher business, one drug store, two doctors, a warehouse, a lumber yard, two implement agencies, and a post office, very small, considering the amount of mail handled and the crowds that line up for mail on mail days.

But the present Tofield is not a patch to what the future Tofield will be. Tofield is situated right on the final survey line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the company having bought a half section of land for a townsite here. Again the townsite overlooks the largest sheet of water in the prairie region of the northwest, Beaver Lake. The surrounding country constitutes one of the finest farming districts in Alberta, and is underlaid with coal, two mines being already in operation. Other natural resources are gas, coal oil, and salt. All these advantages combined with the energy of her citizens will make Tofield one of the leading towns on the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Mr. Berry, (so rumor says) has sold his quarter section adjoining the town site to Messrs. Norquay and McCauley at the substantial figure of twenty dollars per acre.

Mr. McCauley is in town in connection with his new duties as warden of the penitentiary. Although Mr. McCauley is the soul of hospitality, the majority of us, under the circumstances, will be chary about troubling him for accommodation.

The English church is holding a picnic in Mr. Gladue's grove on Saturday, July 28th, the proceeds to go toward furnishing the vicarage.

The Methodist parsonage is being rapidly repaired and furnished under the energetic supervision and indefatigable labors of Mr. Laidman. Mrs. Laidman will join her husband this coming week. We heartily welcome both to the community.

An agitation is being set on foot to establish a Government creamery at Tofield. Butter at ten and eleven cents a pound is rather discouraging to the dairymen of the farm.

Haying is general and a good crop is anticipated as a result of the timely showers. Wheat, oats and barley are headed out, promising an exceptionally early crop ad are fully up to the standard.

The Lamont baseball nine plays at Tofield next Saturday.

THE WHEAT SUPPLY OF BRITAIN.

(Western Home Monthly.) Britain's wheat importation for 1905 amounted to 97,622,752 hundredweight. Russia supplied a fraction more than one-quarter of this (24,703,200), Argentina a little less than another quarter (23,236,400), and the British East Indies a little less than a third quarter (22,807,422). Australia supplied 10,064,700 hundredweight, the United States 6,634,700 and Canada 6,522,630. The imports of 1904 were approximately the same as those of 1905, although there were relatively unimportant changes in the quantity imported from different countries. Russia, Roumania and Argentina made small gains in 1905, while the British East Indies supply fell off about 10 per cent. The supply from the United States fell off about 7 per cent., and the Canadian export increased 7 per cent.

ALCOHOL AS A FUEL.

Attention is being directed strongly at present to denatured alcohol as a fuel. One gallon of 94 per cent. alcohol is equal, it is claimed, to two gallons of gasoline for fuel, light, or running motors, making it at 24 cents per gallon as economical as gasoline at 15 cents, which is the price at which it usually sells, but government chemists say that it can be sold at a profit for 15 cents, and some authorities say that in large quantities it can be sold for eight to ten cents per gallon, making it much cheaper than gasoline and more efficient, less objectionable and quite safe, while gasoline is dangerous, and the odor very nauseating.

It is used in Germany in stoves, ranges and lamps, and makes a beautiful light at a cost of one-third of a cent per hour for a 30 candle-power light. In France and Germany most of the motor cars are run with alcohol, and it has proven far more efficient than gasoline or naphtha, with a pleasant rather than an objectionable odor. It is also used on motor boats, and in Russia, boats of 300 h.p. using alcohol have proven successful.

LUMBER TOWN WAS SAVED

Marquette, Mich., July 26.—The forest fire which threatened Bierch a lumbering town, were subdued today after doing a quarter of a million dollars damage. Twelve million feet of logs and timber were burnt. The wall of flames was thirty feet high. The flames are still racing through the woods and there is fear for the safety of camping parties.

THEY'RE AFTER HIM

London, July 25.—S. M. Alladin, the leader of the Group of Tull: M. Rodichev, leader of the Constitutional Democrats; and M. Ostrogorsky Vasileff, and Prof. Kovalevsky, who came to London from St. Petersburg, to attend the inter-parliamentary union, depart for their homes.

M. Alladin said: "I am not going to St. Petersburg, because if I did my life would be in extreme danger. While parliament was sitting I was comparatively safe as deputies could not be arrested. Now that it is dissolved I must take every precaution. There are 45 death sentences hanging over my head, and the Government would dearly like to get hold of me. I am going to Finland."

A BELL IN THE STORM (Special to the Bulletin)

St. Petersburg, July 25.—Advises received from every section of Russia indicate that, with the exception of the Baltic province of Courland, where armed revolutionaries are laying the country in waste, at Rostov, north-east of Moscow, where peasants in G.P.I. province have risen against the officials, and in Odessa, where the revolutionaries are keeping up their campaign, the Russian empire is quieter than in many months.

THE Oxford Hot Water Boiler takes advantage of every known scientific point which will increase the generation and distribution of heat. We have increased its power enormously by making the walls of the fire pot slant upwards above the fire. This gives a greater surface for the direct action of the rays of heat.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The first water section over the fire is double depth, with bell-shaped flues, which also increases the surface directly displayed to the action of the heat. These are but two of the exclusive points which make the Oxford Hot Water Boiler the most economical and most efficient home-warming apparatus on the market. If you will drop us a post card, we will send you our catalogue, which explains the whole system.

You can heat your farthest room

By installing a combination hot water and hot air heater. By this means you secure a quick warmth when the fire is started, combined with ample ventilation, while the hot water radiators in more distant apartments and at outside walls assure a uniform heat throughout the house.

BUCK'S "LEADER" Combination Heater

Is adapted perfectly to the varying seasons of this country. The smallest fire can be perfectly maintained in the spring and fall months, giving the needed warmth by hot air, while in winter weather all the advantages of hot water heating are automatically secured.

Besides, it burns less coal than any other heater, and that soon saves its whole cost.

Write for our heater catalogue. It tells a lot of things about heating that are worth knowing.

Wholesale Condemnation (Special to The Bulletin.)

St. Petersburg July 26.—Proclamations announce that the death sentence has been imposed on the Emperor, Gen. Trepkoff, Gen. Orloff, the "pacifist" of the Baltic provinces. The terrorists are said to have succeeded in nailing copies of the sentence on the doors of Orloff's and Trepkoff's quarters. A peculiar report gaining credence here is to the effect that the Czar's health is in the same state as during the latter days of the Japanese Russian war when it was feared his mental powers were threatened. According to this he desires to abdicate and turn over the reins of government to a regent to hold for his son but the reactionaries are not ready for this and so are holding the Czar prisoner.

THE GILBRETH SYSTEM

AND THE

COST-PLUS-A-FIXED-SUM CONTRACT

AND THEIR ADVANTAGES TO

ARCHITECTS AND ENGINEERS

In every building operation there are three parties, the owner, the architect or engineer, and the contractor. To get the best results in any construction work it is evident that the architect and contractor must co-operate to the fullest extent. Proper co-operation is impossible when an architect is forced to work with a contractor who skimps his building or who employs inferior materials. Moreover, under such conditions, the structure is bound to suffer and the architect is sure to come in for a big share of the blame. Unsatisfactory results like these occur with great frequency in work done on the lump-sum basis, because the lump-sum contractor, to save himself from loss, often resorts to makeshifts at the expense of the architect's reputation and the owner's pocket. In other words, the lump-sum contractor often works against the interests of architect and owner.

The cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract by eliminating this division of interest, assures co-operation between contractor and architect. The cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract fixes the contractor's profit at the start and thereby removes from him all temptation to do any but the most satisfactory work. His interest is thus made one with the architect's, since both are trying to produce the best results. Naturally the owner reaps the benefit of this unity of effort.

The Gilbreth System has been developed to utilize the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract to maximum advantage. It is a system of organized co-operation perfected by years of experience. It is a system under which red tape is eliminated, the maximum of result is obtained, and speed, economy and efficiency are made dependable quantities.

Under this system the architect finds that the co-operation assured by the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract extends throughout the entire work of construction. This is why the Gilbreth System and the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract appeal so powerfully to architects and engineers, and also why any architect or engineer who has worked with us once is pleased to work with us again.

We solicit an opportunity to explain our system in detail to architects and engineers particularly and to owners generally.

ALBERTA MINISTER IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg Free Press—Hon. W. T. Finlay, Minister of Agriculture for the province of Alberta arrived in the city last night direct from Edmonton. Hon. Mr. Finlay's visit to Winnipeg at the present juncture is in consultation with the Manitoba department on live stock matters and also to visit the Winnipeg industrial exhibition where he will take particular interest in live stock, grain and dairy exhibits. Since taking office as Minister of Agriculture for the new province Hon. Mr. Finlay has been evincing the greatest interest in every thing pertaining to matters of his department, and his latest efforts have been in the way of giving instructions to farmers at the various agricultural fairs. He has attended eight of these fairs during the past three weeks in order to come in direct contact with the agriculturists. Officials of the department have also accompanied him, and at exhibitions a large tent was erected in which were held various demonstrations and lectures. A lady was in attendance who gave demonstrations in cooking. A lecturer gave pointers on noxious weeds and another gave information on poultry fattening, while a third dealt with dairy subjects. All these lectures were largely attended and the demonstrations will be continued at the fall fairs in September.

Hon. Mr. Finlay says the cattle and horses shown at Alberta exhibitions this year were beyond his expectations and were fully indicative of the prosperity and contentment throughout the country. It was the policy of the department of agriculture of Alberta to urge the farmers to pay more attention to mixed farming, so that all their eggs would not be in one basket. They were meeting with great success in dairying, and there were now going throughout the country travelling dairies for the instruction of all farmers who wished to gain information and already a great improvement was noticed. The Minister of Agriculture found that the fall wheat situation was not nearly as discouraging as had been represented in some quarters. Near Pincher Creek in Southern Alberta, some farmers had plowed up their winter wheat owing to early drought, but others who had waited for later results would have good average yields. One field of 1,600 acres that Mr. Finlay saw was really splendid. Later on, when the farmers gain more experience in seeding conditions and improve the quality of seed, there would be no trouble with the fall wheat crop in southern Alberta provided the weather proved favorable.

Cattle and horses on the ranges are in splendid condition through the province, and farmers were also meeting with general success in stock raising, although the prices paid by dealers were much too low.

Hon. Mr. Finlay is one of the old-timers of Alberta, having settled there in 1883, before the C. P. R. was built through, and he is enthusiastic over the prospects and future of the Dominion's newest province.
